Tilly Whim Caves

The caves were formed by quarrying during the Napoleonic wars, the stone being used for the many fortifications built along the South coast. After Napoleon's disastrous Russian campaign demand dwindled and the quarries closed in 1812

The caves were reopened via an alternative entrance in 1887 by George Burt to attract visitors to his Durlston estate. However by 1975 the condition of the caves led to their closure and they are now inhabited by bats and birds.

There are similar (externally) caves at Winspit which are still accessible, but I have no idea of the size relative to Tilly Whim. In those caves there are unsupported roof spans of about ten metres.

Current and archived results, Gas & Air, averages etc., are also published in PDF format on www.dsrpa.co.uk

The DSRPA also organize Gallery/Sport Rifle Leagues. If you're interested ask for your name to be added to the contact list for this discipline.
