FRONT COVER

Swyre Head

Swyre Head in the foreground, with Bat's Head beyond. The opening at the base of the head known as Bat's Hole is just visible, in a few thousand years this will separate into more of the chalk sea stacks common on the Dorset coast. The South Coast Path goes up and over the summit on it's way West, and you can just about make out three figures getting closer than advisable to the edge. Every year there are a number of deaths from cliff falls on the Dorset coast.

There are two Swyre Head's in the Purbecks, the one pictured is the lower of the two at about 250ft; the other eight miles to the east is the highest point on the Isle of Purbeck at about the 700ft mark.

Current and archived results, Gas & Air, averages etc., are also published in PDF format on www.dsarpa.co.uk

The DSRPA also organize Gallery/Sport Rifle Leagues. If you're interested ask for your name to be added to the contact list for this discipline.
